I. The description and purpose of the subject:

Brief description of the course: Up-to-date problems of oncology: factors and precancerous diseases leading to malignant tumor development, prophylaxis of cancer, skrining. The types of oncologic institutions, their function, oncologic service, oncological deontology. Implementation of medical, physical, social and psychological rehabilitation in oncology.

the main aspects of oncological diseases: epidemiology of malignant tumors, cancerogenesis, biological properties, morphology, progressing, nomenclature and classification of tumors, diagnostics and treatment.

Learning the most prevalent malignant tumors – the prevalence and incidence of these tumors, cancerogenesis, biological properties, histologic variants, progressing, staging, diagnostics, treatment and prognosis. Up-to-date treatment strategy of tumors according to histologic variants and stages.

Purpose of the course: Giving comprehensive knowledge to the students on the etiology, growth, development, spreading mechanisms, prevention, diagnostics and treatment of malignant tumors.

II. Calendar of the subject:

Weeks*	Topics and their short review	Lecture	Seminar	Hours	Date*
I Week Day 1	Topic № I Bədxassəli şişlərin etiologiyası və patogenezi. Kanseroqenez haqqında müasir baxışlar. Short review: Theories of the development of malignant tumors (chemical, physical, viral, hereditary and irritant theories). Chemical carcinogenesis (polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons, aromatic nitrogen compounds, metals and inorganic salts). Physical carcinogenesis (ionizing radiation, ultraviolet radiation, mechanical and thermal factors). Biological carcinogens (viruses containing DNA and RNA). Atypicality (biochemical, functional, morphological, cytological, histological, immunological). Theoretical materials on the topic, modern views become the object of interactive discussion in the lecture.	2	–	2
